

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, TMA
REPORT ON CONFLICT MANAGEMENT FOR FBO'S

INTRODUCTION

The Training was organized and scheduled for farmers on Tuesday, 13th February, 2024 at the Department of Agriculture TMA.

PARTICIPANTS

A total number of Forty -one (41) attendees participated the training. Thirty farmers and eleven staff.

RESOURCE PERSON

Mr. Isaac Hosi from Safisana Ghana was the resource person for the training.

THE OBJECTIVE

The objective of the training was to educate participants on conflict and how to manage them.

- ✓ To explain the term conflict, then the causes of conflict.
- ✓ To educate them on how to manage and control conflict so that they leave at peace with each other in their groups

JUSTIFICATION

Conflict is the result of opposing thoughts, actions or ideas disrupting the status. Conflict is seen in everyday life, and it is natural, often selfish, and sometimes productive phenomenon. Because it can lead to violence and war in certain situations, the word 'conflict' often appears with a negative connotation. The reality is that, if dealt with properly and maturely, conflict can lead to positive results and personal growth.

Conflict is the name given to the unrest caused by conflicting ideas, goals, occurrences. There are two branches of conflicts, internal and external conflict, which both branch into two types of conflict. Internal conflict occurs within a person or a group. Interpersonal conflict is an example of internal conflict of one single person, and intragroup conflict is internal conflict which exists within a contained group of people. External conflict exists between two people or more than one group of people, and interpersonal conflict is a type of external conflict which occurs between two people, and intergroup conflict is an external conflict between two or more groups of people. Conflict can be good or bad and, if dealt with properly, can lead to personal growth and other positive results.

IMPACT OF THE TRAINING

The training was very interactive and participatory. The participants talked about their own instance of conflict situations and how they were able to resolve them in their group. The resource person also made them understand the different types of conflict and the various ways to solve them and also made it clear to them that violence is not an option. The resource person also made sure they understood the measures to take when they are involved in conflict for justice to be served in details to the maximum understanding of the participants.

CONCLUSION

The training ended successfully and all participants present were eager to implement the positive measures and practices presented in their respective lines of duty.

RECOMMENDATION

- ✓ It was recommended that the Department should organize such trainings at regular intervals on this subject since it will be beneficial to them.
- ✓ It was recommended that the TMA and the MCEs should enforce the laws to govern disputes between farmers and shepherds which is one of the serious conflicts that farmers are facing.
